

CUSTOMISED TRAINING

IN-COMPANY TRAINING

PRECONDITIONS

A preliminary interview is set up to allow us to analyse together the context, the stakes and the needs to create the best customised training proposition.

INFO

We choose together the place and the date of the training : contact@lelaba.eu

This training is built with, and for the organisation that requests it. This training focuses on the specific needs of the organisation that wishes to train one or more members of its team.

CONTEXT

The organisation wishes to develop a cooperation project on a European scale or a local development project that may be eligible for European funds.

The organisation has notions in project management and/or has developed international links. In order to take the development and internationalisation of her activities to the next level, she wishes to train her team in the engineering of multilateral European projects or in the management of local development projects.

This development of skills must be precise of the methodology of projects and can financially secure the positions and the positioning of the organisation in the sector.

METHOD

Presentations, examples of laureate projects, discussion with participants on their projects, adapted teaching materials (reference texts, examples of projects and budgets, etc.), use of different types of teaching methods from formal and non-formal education.

CONTENT (EXAMPLE)
